SOUTHEASTERN

Designer Showhouse

Dear Atlanta Homes & Lifestyles Team,

I am honored to have served as Honorary Chair for this year's Southeastern Showhouse. Thank you for including me in such a stunning celebration of design and community.

A heartfelt thank you to Lauren Iverson for your inspiring editorial leadership, to Elizabeth Rails for your dedication and vision through Esteem Media, and to Lori Hojnowski for your flawless execution and attention to every detail. Your hard work and passion have made this event a tremendous success, and it is a joy to be a part of it.

I'm so grateful for the opportunity to support this remarkable endeavor and to collaborate with such an exceptional team.

With warmest appreciation,
Honey Collins

About Honey

Honey Collins got an early start in the design field. Raised in Atlanta, Georgia, Honey spent much of her childhood hiding in fabric samples as she followed her mother, noted Atlanta decorator Susan Wilcox, around the Atlanta Design Center, as well as playing store in the antique shop her mother owned. Needless to say, she was exposed to good design and fine antiques from day one- the perfect start to a life spent in interior design. These early memories have reinforced her belief that your home should be a reflection of all the things you love. Now living with her family on Boston's North Shore, her work takes her across New England and beyond.

Italian 1800s Walnut Credenza with Drawers, Doors, Inlay and Foliage Carved Feet

An Italian walnut credenza from the early 19th century, with drawers over doors, inlay and carved feet. Created in Italy in the early years of the 19th century, this walnut credenza features a rectangular top with rounded corners in the front, sitting above a dentil molding carved with moon crescents, followed by drawers fitted with wooden pulls. The lower section showcases the doors, adorned with delicate inlay and flanked with pilaster style motifs. The ensemble is resting on a molded plinth raised on handsome feet carved with scrolling foliage. With its nice proportions and great patina, this Italian walnut credenza circa 1800 will bring a touch of undeniable elegance to any living room or dining room.
